DEPARTURE OF THE 20TH REGISSET-IM-MINSE BETHUSIASK - PRESENTATION OF COL-ORS AT THE PARK .- The United Turner Rifles, one of the fit set of New York's Regiments, left yesterday for Fortrees Monroe. This regiment is almost entirely composed of Germans; organized from the "Turnverein As-sociation of athletes of this city and vicinity, and many of its members men who have before fought in the cause of liberty in the old world. The greater portion of the officers of the I ne and staff are vererans, and ne abler Coronel has entered the field than Col. MAX

WHERE. They number 804 officers and men. For three or four weeks past the regiment has been quartered at Turtle Bay Brewery, 45th street and E. R., and the fact is worthy of notice that while desertions have frequently occurred from all our other volunteer regiments, the 20th has not lost a single man, though their quarters have constantly been open and the men could at any moment have escaped. The men were almost frantic with enthusiasm when the order for their departure yesterday was promulgated. On Wednesday, the whole regiment was supplied with Havelocks, and yesterday, before starting, with in dia rubber blanketa, these articles completing their equipment.

At two o'clock precisely, yesterday afternoon, the regimental line was formed at their encampment on 45th street, and marched down Second Avenue to 20th street, through to Fourth Avenue, and down to Union Square. Here they were joined by a number of German civic societies, under the marshalship of Mr. J. HILLENBRAND, and the column formed for the march down Broadway as follows :

Each of the societies carried banners bearing such its strange device or mottoes, and promi nent among them was the Turner motto of "Bahn Frei," on the old flag carried by the earlier Turners. The men in the regiment all wore in their caps sprigs of evergreen.

The streets through which the procession was to pass were lined, hours before it made its sppearance, and when it did appear, all, eld nd young, among the bystanders, united in enthusiastic applause of the gallant regiment. Before the City Hall, every point which commarded a view of the parade-ground before the Hall, was occupied. The civic societies were placed on each side and behind the regiment.

The flag presentation then commenced. The BIEZRI, by Miss OFELIA Stars, who accompanied its delivery with a very eloquent and beautiful address. Mrs. WALTER also made a short speech, conjuring the regiment by memories of the past to maintain the fair renown of the German nation, whose sword is ever ready at the call of liberty. orders No. 258, for the choice of persons to fill Capt. Varce, in behalf of the employed Mesers. MITCHELL, VALUE & Co., presented an American flag without any speech. Col. WEHER replied to all at once, speaking in German, thanking the donors of the several flags, and promising for his men to stand faithfully by them. The colors were then saluted and carried to their place in the lice. These ceremonies being concluded, the line was again formed, and the regiment, accompanied by its ercort, marched through Chatham, Bowery, Canal, Varick and North Moore streets, to the foot of North Moore, where the regiment went on board the steamship Alsbama. The scenes of parting were very affecting, but not prolonged, and at about half-past eight o'clock the vessel moved of down the stream, direct for Fortress Monroe.

DAPARTURE OF THE WILSON ZOUAVES, 6cH REGIMENT, N. Y. V .-- Colonel WILSON'S ZOW. aves finally succeeded in getting off yesterday afternoon. When a general order announced that the regiment was detailed for a secret ex ped tion, and they had to start immediately, the whole camp was alive with joy. At noon the regimental line was formed on the parade ground of the camp, numbering 835 rank and file. The regiment landed on this side at the foot of 14th street North River. The large pier was blocked up with a mass of human beings, awaiting their arrival. The steamer landed alongside a canal boat screes which the troops landed by companies and formed in regimental line on 11th avenue Here the troops were joined by Dodworth's Band, and amid the shouts of the multitude the roar of artillery and the strains of regi mental mutic, the column marched up 14th street to 5th avenue, thence through 8th street to No. 63 Clinton street, where a halt was ordered to receive a stand of colors, prepared by a number of ladies.

The regiment forming in line, Col. Wilson ordered his officers to the centre, when they seconded with him into the house and were in troduced to a large number of ladies and gentlemes. They partook of a collation, the coldiers, mesnwails, being served with cooling ericks, pipes and tobacco by the ladies of the Brevoort House. At length, Col. Wilson gave the order "attention," when the Rev. SULLIVAN H. WESTON, Chaplain of the 7th Regiment, came forward with Mrs. GRO. Strong, leaning on his arm, bearing a silker regulation flag on a silver mounted staff, with the following inscription on a silver mounted plate:

PRESENTED TO THE STATE REGIMENT, COLONEL WILSON'S ZOUAVES By several Laties of New York City, June, 1861.

The Rev. gentleman then came forward and addressed the regiment in a stirring and highly patriotic speeth. Col. WILSON received the colors from Mrs. STRONG and passing ther to the celor-bearer, John W. Woods, replied with much spparent emotion. He said,

I can berdly speak, utterance is taken from me by the sight of my wise, child, and the ladae of New York. I love that flag (pointing to the colors) note than my wife. I love any G-d first, part my first, and then my farm's, and am ready to sacrificate or supplying except my G-d for that flag, as it is my firm belief the sum one who dies for that flag, as it is my firm belief the sum one who dies for that flag, as it is my firm belief the sum one who dies for that flag, as it is my firm belief the sum one who dies for that flag, as it is my firm belief the sum one who dies for that flag, as it is my firm belief the sum one who dies for that flag, as it is my firm belief the sum one who dies for that flag, as it is my firm belief the sum one who dies for that flag, as it is my firm belief the sum of the origin exchange we have one as a flow. If the flaghting I am going forth, nor far the sake on Lurdon at 160%. For the flaghting I am going forth, nor far the sake of a Colema's communication; it is sufficient which drives me to the battle field, and may it be on the plaine of Texas,or on the sandy brane as Personales, or in the descerated lands of Virginia, that fig will be cherished and defended to the lass erroy of our blood. Where one man falls in its death, a thousand will awappe him, and death for that flag will be sweet in thinking of the ladies of New York, and particularly of you radies who came to me, almost an outcost, and like God's biened angels, ministered to the wants of my men, who, though misrepressed d, are still true asen, as good as God ever put breach rade. Tooy are nature's moblemen of their class, who must the country free made the republics of Brune and France, and will aprin liberate the land from aristocrate and t-alters I don't be leve that the bullet is moulded yet which will kill me.

The regiment broke into columns by platoons, and headed by a body of police, marched of their class, who made shis country free made the republics of Rums and France, and will again liberate this land from aristocrate and traitors. I don't be leve that the builds is moulded yet which will kill me.

The regiment broke into columnelly platoons, and headed by a body of police, marched through Clinton Place into Broadway. The privates were dressed in the regular uniform of the state volunteers, and were Havelocks over their cape. The field officers and Adjutant wore the full dress uniform of the army, while the line officers were in fatigue dress. The Eagineers, 30 in number, 3 from each company, under Lieut. Clarr, were blue jackets, grey panta, red stripe, grey shirt, and each carrying a thert sword bayonst. As the column moved down Broadway, all the hotels en the route successively saluted it by dipping their colors. The waving of ladies handkerchiefs and the cheering was continuous, until the lieute class of the colors and the cheering was continuous, until the lieute class of the colors. chiefs and the cheering was continuous, until the line reached the battery, off which lay the length amicably arranged.

Before leaving Staten Island, the regiment was promised by the officers 12 hours furlough before their final start for the war, and on reaching the steamer, on the tug growing suspicious of an intention to disappoint them in this respect, a large proportion of the regiment became clamorous for the fulfilment of this pledge. Several hundred had already passed from the tug on board the steamer. The balance refused to go on board, but insisted on returning at once to land. After a brief explanation of the misunderstanding, those who desired were allowed to go ashore, in company with the officers, with the understanding to be en board again this morning threatened something serious. But all was at

About half the regiment embraced the offer. The regiment consists of 10 companies, 77 men each. Their arms are the improved United States musket. The commanding officer goes out under sealed orders and hence the precise delination of his corps is left a mentary. The principal officers are, Wm. Wilson, Col.; JOHN CREIGHTON, Lieut.-Col. ; WM. B. Accident to Col. Wilson.—While the en were passing from the tug to the steamer last night, and during the temporary trouble connected with the furlough, an unhappy ac cident befel Col. WILSON. He was on the tug-endeavoring to satisfy his men that he intended to act on the "equare" with them, when, making some mis-step, he fell head first, from the hurricans deck to the first deck, a distance of some 12 or 14 feet, striking on his bead. He was picked up insensible, and remained so from 5 to 10 minutes, manifesting symptoms of concussion of the brain. He was t once brought on to the Vanderbilt and taken to his state-room, where he soon recovered his sensibility. The regimental surgeon, Dr. Pease, was promptly at his side. Our reporter visited the Vanderbilt during the evening, and was informed up to the hour of leaving the Col. was doing well, and will probably be able to take command in about 48 hours. The Vanderbilt is expected to leave this after
